

Summary and Takeaways

- Everyone is on a hero's journey to living authentically with meaning and purpose.
- People don't want conventional jobs. They want opportunities to live purposefully and authentically through meaningful work.
- There is a difference between authentic vs positional leadership.
- Attracting real future leaders requires you to be a place where authentic leadership is possible and can flourish.
- Your workplace manifests as fractals of you and the quality of your leadership.
- Being a workplace that attracts future authentic leaders requires you to be an authentic leader yourself.
- Don't take the stresses personally, but take who you are as a leader personally.
- Keep developing and evolving yourself as a conscious, authentic leader. Embrace your own Hero's Journey.